Figure 32. Changes in avian composition across successional stages from grassland to shrub-steppe to juniper woodland. Avian species richness (total number of species) is greatest in Phase I and early to mid-Phase II. Illustration is based on Reinkensmeyer 2000, Noson 2002, and EOARC unpublished data. Dashed line indicates presence but declining use by the species.