

Welcome to the new and improved ConservationTraining.org. We are excited to show you what we have been up to the past several months. Our goal with this upgrade is to offer you a more modern, responsive, and streamlined interface. Allowing you to quickly access all the great content within ConservationTraining.org.

Let's take a look at the homepage. On our new homepage, we highlight some important conservation issues, Species Extinction, Climate Change, and Coral Reefs. We can also see information about us and our partners. Scrolling down a little bit, you can see some featured curriculum, like our Reef Resilience curriculum, or GIS. Finally, some Testimonials at the bottom.

On the top, you can navigate to view all of the curriculums in ConservatinTraining.org. More information about us and our featured content. And finally, if you don't have an account yet, you can click the sign up button to create an account.

Let's take a quick look at our curriculums. You can see all the curriculums available within ConservationTraining.org are listed in alphabetical order. Simply click on the name of a curriculum to view more information and the courses available. For example, if I click on the Climate Change REDD + curriculum, I can see some general information about this curriculum, and the courses available like Introduction to Climate change and the role of forests. REDD+ Policy and REDD+ Implementation.

Along the left, I can see the full list of curriculums and quickly navigate to another one.

In the next set of videos we will learn about course room themselves and the changes you will see there, and I will show you some of the user preferences.

We hope you enjoy the new ConservationTraining.org and we look forward to having you on our site.
